

COMPROMISE RUMORED NOW

Said to be a Possibility of A. P. Walker Settling With His Creditors in Near Future.

FOR 70 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR

Walker Lists Large Amount of Stock in Many Concerns and Notes as Assets.

Persistent rumors are going the rounds that there is great probability of a settlement between A. P. Walker and his creditors who have already forced him into the hands of a receiver and against whom there are now a number of civil suits pending.

It will be recalled that a meeting of the creditors to whom Walker is indebted the most was held in the office of Walker's attorney, William M. Henley, in Indianapolis last Saturday. The purpose of the meeting was to talk compromise.

It is stated by a number who were in the meeting that not one objection to compromise was voiced by any representative of any creditor present. It was stated by Walker's attorney that he only knew of one creditor, who is a Rushville man, who seriously objected to compromise and that he thought that man could be persuaded to act with the rest of the creditors in accepting terms.

It is understood seventy cents on the dollar was the sum mentioned at which Walker was willing to settle. It is stated that he could save some money out of the crash by making this sort of a settlement, but that in the other event of the continued court fight, a good bit of the assets of the former cattle importer would be wasted and his creditors would have to be satisfied with less.

Walker's statement of assets and liabilities has been made a matter of public record in the court house. He gives his liabilities at $54,920 and his assets at $28,065 in notes, a number of shares of stock in various concerns and personal property.

The creditors and the sum owed them are all set forth. The notes for $5,500, $2,800, $6,000, $3,500, $690 and $5,075. The latter, it is stated in the inventory, is a note due Jeremy Walker, father of A. P. Walker. That sum was loaned him by his father, Walker stated, to help buy his farm.

The stock and personal property includes: 7 shares of stock in the Indiana National Bank of Indianapolis, 20 shares of stock in the Aetna Trust company of Indianapolis, 25 shares in the Farmers' Trust Company of Rushville, 17 shares in the Rushville Glove Company, 11 shares in the Ideal Husker Company, half interest in an auto, half interest in farm machinery, half interest in 35 cattle, 15 cattle, half interest in 40 registered hogs, half interest in 30 hogs not registered, three horses, half interest in four horses and two colts and a farm of 120 acres.

In the inventory it is also stated that Walker is the owner of an additional twenty shares of stock in the Rushville Glove company but that he has never received a certificate showing ownership although he has paid for the same.

WRIT IS GRANTED.
(By United Press.)

Ft. Worth, Texas, Mar. 17.—Federal Judge Meek today granted the application for a hearing on the writ of habeas corpus to release 5,000 Mexicans held at Ft. Bliss. The application will be heard at Vecos, March 23.

GAINS FREEDOM ON PAROLE

Fred Floyd Serves Year and is Released.

Fred Floyd, colored, who was sentenced to serve one to eight years in the State Reformatory at Jeffersonville, has been paroled and is now working for Pete Johnson, north of the city. Floyd served one year of his sentence. He pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced March 13, 1913, by Judge Megee. Floyd, it will be remembered took a suit case from the traction station belonging to Miss Olive Traylor, formerly a teacher in the local high school. He is said to have had a good record at the reformatory and was made a trusty after being there a short time.

DEATH COMES TO WILLIAM JULIAN

Well Known Resident of County Expires at Home Near Milroy After Long Illness

WIDOW AND TWO SONS SURVIVE

Wm. P. Julian, 76 years old, one of the pioneer residents of this county died this morning at seven-thirty o'clock at his home, two miles south of Milroy. He had been in ill health for some time, but the direct cause of his death was blood poisoning. Mr. Julian irritated his face by rubbing and blood poison resulted.

Mr. Julian was the son of the late Isaac Julian and was born May 6, 1837. He lived practically all his life on his farm in Anderson township. He was married in 1867 to Miss Eliza Overleese. Mr. Julian was well known in the southern part of the county. He is survived by his widow and two sons, George W. Julian and Thomas A. Julian. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday but the exact hour has not been determined.

LEADERS FIXING UP SLATE TODAY

Fate of Several Democratic State

Candidates Lies in What Constitutes The Program.

RALSTON'S SPEECH READY

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—One might look in any direction here today with the chance of seeing influential Democratic politicians slipping away for conferences over proposed slates for the state convention which will be held tomorrow and Thursday.

Candidates for office were busy today about the hotels, particularly the Denison. Today and tomorrow will be trying days for them, for the fate of several lie in the slate being prepared by the leaders.

Governor Ralston's keynote speech, a voluminous document, is back from the printer.

WILSON SURPRISED.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 17.—Surprise at the lack of state wide primaries in so great and wide-awake a state as Indiana and a hearty wish they may be put in effect are expressed in a letter by President Wilson to Sen. Kern who will leave tonight to attend the Indiana Democratic convention.

BOARD TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

Preliminary Work Will be Closed at Session of Directors of Chamber of Commerce.

COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED

Executive Committee Hears Partial Report From Finance Committee—Pays Bills.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Rush county will be held in the headquarters of the Chamber in the Odd Fellows building next Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

At that time the board will close up the preliminary organization work so that the regular routine work of the Chamber may go forward. Such things as the consideration of the appointment of the standing committees will come up.

The officials of the Chamber who announced the meeting for Friday night said today that it was very much desired that there be a full attendance of the directors because of the many important things which will be discussed.

It is felt that the standing committees should be named at once so that they can begin their work. It was not desired that the standing committees be appointed until after the first month's dues were collected, and this accounts for the delay in this part of the organization. There are other things, as well as to be brought before the board.

The executive committee met late yesterday afternoon to hear the reports on the finance committee which was named to collect the dues for the first month, but only a half dozen members of the board, who were assigned to collect from a given number of persons reported.

The reports received from those half dozen members were very flattering for the future of the Chamber. They were in effect that all of the members who were approached concerning the collection of the first month's dues were very enthusiastic about the Chamber and expected great things of it. The remaining reports on collections will be received at the meeting of the board of directors Friday night.

In addition to hearing the report of some members of the finance committee and calling the meeting of the board for Friday night, the executive committee voted to pay a few small bills which had accumulated since the organization was launched and then adjourned.

COMPANY IS REORGANIZED

Firm is Known as Excelsior Creamery Company.

The Rushville Creamery company was reorganized last night. The new company is to be known as the Excelsior Creamery Co., and will be incorporated for $10,000. The property was disposed of last Saturday at the receiver's sale to Charles Sefton. The officers of the new company are: Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, president; Charles Sefton, vice-president; and Harry Kramer, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors is composed of the officers and Jacob Feudner, Claude Walker and A. R. Holden. The business will continue as in the past and the expert butter maker will remain in charge of the plant.

TESTIMONIALS AT THE REVIVAL

Preceding Sermon Monday Night, Many Testify to Their Satisfaction in Decision Made.

TRAVELING MAN MAKES TALK

Rev. L. A. Harriman Says True Religious Life Depends on Inward Power Which Changes Heart.

The large attendance at the series of meetings in the Methodist church continues. Last night preceding the sermon a testimonial service was held in which a large number testified to their satisfaction in the decision they had made for Christ. A traveling man added interest to this service by telling of Billy Sunday's meetings which he had attended in Pittsburg.

Mr. Harriman preached from Jas. 1:26-27, "If any man thinketh himself to be religious, while he brideth not his own tongue, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and keep himself unspotted from the world."

He spoke of the necessity of a true religious life, and pointed out that this depended upon an inward power which changed the heart. One was not apt to keep himself "unspotted from the world" without such power, he said. Fundamentally religion consisted in two things, conformity of God's will, and an outward moral discipline or life which corresponded to the profession, he concluded.

Tonight, a special service will be held for young people. The Boy Scouts, under the leadership of C. E. Waldon, will attend in a body. Mr. Harriman, who is a Scout Master and also a First Lieutenant in the National Guards, will speak on a topic of interest to the boys.

This afternoon the Bible reading was held at the residence of Willard Amos in North Perkins street. Tomorrow afternoon and each afternoon the rest of this week the Bible reading and lecture by Mr. Harriman will be held at the church. The night services will also continue each night during the week, the time being 7:30 o'clock.

COMMITTEEMEN MEET SATURDAY

Republican County Committee Will Fix Date for County Convention and to Choose Delegates.

FOR MANY CONVENTIONS

Fon Riggs, county chairman of the Republican party and Charles J. Brooks, secretary, yesterday issued a call for the meeting of the precinct committeemen, who comprise the county committee, to be held in the court house assembly room next Saturday afternoon, March 21, at one o'clock.

The meeting has several purposes in view. In the first place the committee will set a date for the county convention to nominate the county ticket and a date to nominate the township tickets. At the same time a date will be set to select delegates to the state, congressional, judicial, county and councilmanic conventions.

SCORE MAY BE DEAD UNDER FALLEN WALL

(By United Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 17.—The west wall of the Missouri Athletic club fell late this afternoon, catching a score of workmen. Cries of the injured were heard. It is feared there are many dead. Ambulances were called for and a fire alarm was sent in. The wall towered several stories high and was seventeen inches thick. Later reports say nineteen are missing and buried under the wall.

MRS. JOHN WIDAU EXPIRED

Passed Away This Afternoon at Her Home Near Raleigh.

Mrs. Minnie Widau, 35 years old, wife of John Widau, died this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at her home southwest of Raleigh. Mrs. Widau had been ill for several months and death was expected. For the past two weeks she had been in a serious condition. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Mrs. Widau was well known and was one of the highly respected women of the Raleigh neighborhood. Her death comes as a shock to her many friends. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Allan and Gerald Widau. The funeral arrangements have not been completed but the remains will be taken to Economy, Ind., her old home, for burial.

HE WILL UNEARTH ROTTEN POLITICS

Prosecutor at Evansville Says he Will Show Conditions Similar to Terre Haute's.

THE GRAND JURY MEETS TODAY

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., Mar. 17.—When the Vanderburg county grand jury met here today, Prosecutor Sapperfield announced that he would investigate rumors of the alleged bi-partisan alliance in the recent Republican primaries held in Evansville.

Conditions will be found as rotten here as they were at Terre Haute, he said. He charged the Freddie Osenberg wing of the Republican party of combining with the Democrats for a consideration to elect Mayor Bosse and intimated that the appointment of Osenberg and others of his wing to city positions substantiated his charges.

Prosecutor Sapperfield said he would issue subpoenas for the heads of all four parties locally to appear before the grand jury. He said the probe would be thorough.

COURT DARK.

There was no court today and there will probably not be any Wednesday or Thursday. Judge Megee was in Indianapolis today meeting old acquaintances gathered there for the Democratic state convention, which opens tomorrow. He will likely remain for all the "doings" connected with the convention.

UNFAIRNESS ALLEGED.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 17.—The Department of Justice office admitted today that application for a pardon has been received in behalf of the labor leaders convicted at Indianapolis in the famous dynamite conspiracy case. Text of the application was not made public, but it is stated they are based on the alleged unfairness of Judge Anderson of the Indiana district.

CITY OFFICIALS WAIT ON JUDGE

Terre Haute Attorney and Police Chief Come Into Federal Court Today to Fight For Order.

TO KEEP PEOPLE OFF CARS

Budge Federal Judge Heard it Was Recinded and Left—Cars Running Today.

UNION MEN STILL OUT.

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Mar. 17.—Cars were running regularly here today though there were few passengers. The officials of the T. H. I. & E. announced that all employees who worked for the company Saturday before the strike were still in its employ and that none would be discharged until it had been proved that he had been guilty of inciting violence.

The union men are still on a strike and declare they will not return to work until arrangements have been made to have the public service commission arbitrate all disputes arising in the future from the discharge of men.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—While City Attorney Batt and Chief of Police Holler of Terre Haute waited at Federal court here today for Judge Baker, that gentleman was in his office in Chicago. The Terre Haute man came over to the expected hearing on their order that no one should ride on Terre Haute street cars during the strike.

Judge Baker was informed last night the order was rescinded in Terre Haute. He at once left for Chicago. The Terre Haute officials are now attempting to get the traction company to dismiss its petition regarding the order.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—The issuance of a temporary Federal Court injunction to prevent the men on the city car lines in Terre Haute from engaging in a strike and a declaration by Governor Ralston that an offer of the Public Service Commission to serve as a board of arbitration in the Indianapolis disputes is final, so far as the state is concerned, were the principal developments in the car situations here and in Terre Haute up to late last night. The service commission's offer to serve as a board of arbitration was made at the request of the Governor, when it was seen that the plan, announced Saturday, for the commission to appoint an arbitration board was not satisfactory.

Another factor in the local situation was the announcement that a final conference on the question of reinstating thirty-one discharged employees will be held today by the executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employees and the officers of the Traction and Terminal Company.

The announcement of the Governor that the offer of members of the service commission to serve as arbiters is final was made when members of the executive committee of the local carmen's union called at his office and entered a protest against the commission appointing an arbitration board or itself serving as such.

"You can acquiesce in that plan or accept the responsibility of declining."

AUTHORITY TO WRITE POLICIES

Auditor of State Says Pension Mutual is Qualified to do Business in Indiana.

TOOK OVER COMMERCIAL LIFE

Was Not a Stock Company, But Underwriters Company Was Organized to Sell Insurance.

Offense has been taken by some persons holding policies in the defunct Commercial Life Insurance company of Indiana, that once was, at a story published in the Daily Republican, Monday, February 9 to the effect that the Pension Mutual Life Insurance company of Pittsburgh, Pa., which took over the old Commercial Life, was not authorized to do business.

The article was based on a letter written and signed by Charles Johnson, insurance commissioner of Pennsylvania, in which he stated the Pension Mutual was at that time operating under a special charter granted by the legislature, prior to the organization of the Pennsylvania insurance department, and that at that time the Pension Mutual had complied with the insurance department, or the insurance laws, and was not authorized to do business. These were the exact words of the insurance commissioner.

The insurance commissioner further stated in this letter that he had a letter from the president of the Pension Mutual in which it was stated the company was at work preparing the reserve sheets of the company, which, when completed, were to be sent to the chief actuary in New York for valuation, and when this had been done, according to the plan outlined in the letter, they were to be sent to the state insurance commissioner for the approval of the state actuary of the insurance department. After he examined the reserve sheets, the letter stated, he would have examined the company.

Of course, the power of Mr. Johnson extended only throughout the state of Pennsylvania. When complaint was made by holders of policies in the old Commercial Life, a letter was written to W. H. O'Brien, auditor of Indiana, asking for an opinion on the question. The state auditor asked for a copy of the newspaper containing the article, after which he promised to respond to questions asked. Mr. O'Brien, however, has never found time to respond since the article was sent to him.

But a letter is at hand from the state auditor which was received by a policy holder in the old Commercial Life, in which the Indiana state auditor says the Pension Mutual is authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania. He writes:

"In reply to your of the 28th ult. I would say: The Pension Mutual Life Insurance company of Pittsburgh, Pa., is authorized to write insurance in this state. They are also authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania. It is a special charter company and I cannot understand how you happened to interpret Mr. Johnson's letter as you say. We have letters from Mr. Johnson in which he says they are authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania."

"The Pension Mutual, having reinsured the live policies of the Commercial, reinsured your policy, and I must say you are safer with your Commercial policy in the Pension Mutual than you were in the Commercial, as the Pension Mutual is solvent and able to pay its obligations."

The Republican is awaiting a reply from the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner to explain away some of the conflicting statements. In one letter Mr. Johnson states the Pension Mutual is not authorized to issue policies or transact any insurance business (referring to Pennsylvania) and the auditor of Indiana states the Pension Mutual is authorized to write insurance not only in Indiana, but Pennsylvania also.

The Republican was in error in stating some Rush county people had stock in the old Commercial Life. It was not a stock company, but there was organized an underwriters company, separate and distinct from the Commercial insurance on the Commercial's books, and some of that stock was owned in Rush county. This caused the confusion.

It was stated in the original article that this example explained the need of strengthening the Indiana insurance laws. Local agents of Indiana companies were displeased by this statement and have pointed to the fact that the Pension Mutual was authorized to do business in Indiana when the auditor of Indiana allowed the policies of the Commercial Life to be transferred to the Pension Mutual. The statements of the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner applied to Pennsylvania only. Indiana insurance men point to the statement of the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner, printed on folders sent out by the Pension Mutual, that the Pension Mutual has complied with the Pennsylvania law authorizing insurance companies to do business in other states and with the United States government. This gave the Indiana auditor of state ample reason for allowing the transfer of the Commercial policies to the Pension Mutual, they say.

USES HATPIN IN DEFENSE

Miss Mabel Hudson of Connorsville Resists Attack of Man.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Connorsville, Ind., Mar. 17.—While being dragged down an alley last night by a tall, well dressed man, who was choking her, Miss Mabel Hudson 19 years old, jabbed a long hatpin into her assailant's body repeatedly, causing him to drop her to the ground. The girl fought the man for several minutes before her cries were heard. Dr. M. H. Zehrung, reading in his home near by, rushed to the scene, armed with a revolver. The girl's assailant ran and disappeared in the river bottoms east of the city. He nearly choked the young woman to death before she was able to reach her hatpin. She was returning home from town and hearing a man close behind her, started to run. The man caught her just as she crossed an alley. When the girl began to scream the man choked her. The police and a posse of citizens searched the river lowlands all night, but failed to find a trace of the man.

Amusements

The Gem will have a two reel comedy "When Ursus Threw the Bull" for the first picture. It is said to be a clever comedy, original in its idea and well acted. Ramona Langley, Lee Moran and John Stepping are featured. The other is a Rex drama entitled "An Arrow-head Romance." It is said to be a thrilling western drama and features Bob Leonard. Tomorrow night the two reel Bison drama "The Eleventh Hour" will be shown. On Thursday night a single reel picture showing the Vanderbilt Cup race will be featured. The race was run Feb. 26th at Los Angeles.

The Princess will show the first of the series of Kathlyn Williams pictures tonight. The series is in twenty-seven reels and there will be twelve pictures after this one. Tonight's picture, "The Adventures of Kathlyn" or "The Unwelcome Throne" is in three reels and is said to be a sensational wild animal production. The other pictures are two reel productions, while this one is in three reels.

The Portola will show the four reel feature "A Prisoner in the Harem" for tonight. It is said to be a thrilling picture and is elegantly staged. The scenes are said to be wonderful. The climax is a fight between a lion and tiger. The animal scenes are especially good. There is no change in the price.

Some Explanations

The cry of Democracy for years has been that the tariff was the solution of the high cost of living problem. Furthermore the Democratic office seekers who were out of office and wanted to heap ridicule on the Republican tariff as the mother of monopoly and the harbor of the trusts.

With these things in view, the Indiana state Journal points that if this theory is found false, all of the opposition to the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill falls flat. If the consumer does not reap a benefit from the change in the rates on imports, what good is done? Nothing except that the big middlemen and certain importers are helped. The chief aim of the United States is to help the producer.

The following from Holland, the New York correspondent of two independent newspapers, the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer, certainly makes interesting reading, laid alongside of the output that has proceeded from the downward revisers, who succeeded in making the people believe that by striking down the American producer you could bring relief to the American consumer. Holland says:

"The experts in the custom house are reported to be somewhat puzzled by the official figures, which show a great falling off in custom revenues, especially since the new tariff law went into effect. It is not strange, the experts say, that there should be a large falling off in custom revenues, notwithstanding the great increase in importation since the new tariff law greatly reduced tariff rates and considerably increased the free list. That is what was expected.

But the curious feature is discovered in the fact that, notwithstanding the large falling off in receipts at the custom houses, no lessening of the cost of commodities, excepting in two or three instances, has been reported. Not even the heavy importation of beef and corn from South America has served to reduce the cost of these foods. Some food products cost more now than they did under the old tariff law.

"Those who are customers of the shops where clothing, silks and fabrics of all kinds are dealt in report that prices have not decreased notwithstanding heavy importations of some articles of these kinds. Sugar alone maintains its paradoxical market conditions, since the tendency has been the case for some years. It is the only necessary of life of which the cost has decreased.

"There were many persons in the United States, some of them being in public life, who were glad that a test was to be made of the soundness contained in the arguments of those who said that a low tariff would reduce the cost of many commodities and would serve also to increase importations. Even some men who are of strong protective convictions confessed that the time had come when a test should be made so that it could be learned precisely what the effect of a high tariff is upon American industries and the cost of commodities made and marketed in the United States.

"Nelson Dingley, at one time chairman of the ways and means committee in the House of Representatives, and the author of the tariff law which bears his name, was never surpassed as a student, practical and scientific, theoretical of the relation of the tariff to American business life and to the prices charged for commodities in the American market. Governor Dingley's studies convinced him that while there might be danger in a protective system which leveled too high rates, it was a danger which cured itself in the long run. He was convinced that whatever may have been the fact in the days before there was rapid steamship communication with other lands and almost instantaneous cable connection, it is the fact in these times that a low tariff will not especially affect the cost of commodities to American consumers, although a low tariff might make great and sweeping changes in American industries inevitable.

"The experts say that it is altogether too soon to base with confidence any judgment upon the permanent effect of the new tariff law, although they do admit that so far it seems as though the tariff is not securing the chief benefits which those who framed it looked for, namely, a reduction in the cost of commodities, especially the necessities of life.

"The government reports that customs revenues in February of this year were $10,000,000 below the revenue collected a year ago, although importations were considerably increased. The wonder is, then, where that $10,000,000 went. The American public does not seem to have gained any benefit from a reduction in customs charges, which caused a falling off of $10,000,000 in revenue for a single month. Did the exporters who live in other lands take advantage of the reduced tariff to add to their charges? Did they 'tuck on' a little when exporting commodities which had been placed on the free list?"

The Daily Republican is still holding off the temptation to make "easy money" at the expense of the Rushville merchants by issuing special editions and other such advertising grafts, the long end of which always goes to the stranger who has only a passing and pecuniary interest in the city. Every week the Republican is solicited and urged to take up with this or that scheme, all of them being beyond the bounds of legitimate advertising in that a special rate is to be charged for space that the advertiser could buy for regular rates. The Daily Republican goes on the theory that advertising in this newspaper of bona fide and guaranteed circulation is an investment and not an experiment. Its crowded advertising columns testify to the fact that there is plenty of legitimate business without needlessly separating merchants from their money.

WHAT TARIFF HASN'T DONE.

(Columbus Republican)

If it be necessary that we be robbed again by what the Democrats call the iniquitous tariff, in order that the factory wheels whirl again; in order that the hundreds of thousands of unemployed throughout the land be again put to work at remunerative wages, then let the robbery begin without further delay. But were we robbed? The advocates of the low tariff or no tariff loudly proclaimed that, once they had charged and power to reduce the tariff the country would revel in low priced commodities of all sorts by reason of importations. Apparently, if there has been any reduction the importer is the fellow who has been benefitted. Besides all this, what doth it profit the laboring man without employment and without money how cheap commodities may become?

SUPERVISION IS NECESSARY

Child Labor Committee Secretary
Says at Conference Uniformity is Needed.

EXAMINATION IS ADVISED

"The High Cost of Labor, or Our Moral Buzz Saw" Will be Topic of Big Address.

(By United Press.)

New Orleans, La., Mar. 17.—Because of the complications involved in issuing work permits to children under the child labor law limit, uniform blanks and statewide supervision are necessary to real enforcement of the law, according to Geo. A. Hall, secretary of the New York Child Labor Committee, who today delivered the principal address at the tenth National Child Labor Conference which has been in session since Sunday afternoon.

Only after a child has undergone a thorough physical examination, according to Secretary Hall, should the request for a permit to work be granted. "Children, aided and abetted by their parents have been known to attempt many shrewd methods of escaping the law even in thorough physical tests," declared Secretary Hall. "There have been cases in which boys faced an examiner with pockets filled with stones or lead or sand so as to bring themselves up to the required weight. There is a great deal of necessary red-tape involved in the proper issuance of work permits. Parents have been known to alter dates of birth certificates so as to work a child who is below the legal age, adequate documentary proof of age, should be required. Even among the great Foreign born population of New York 75 per cent. of the children are able to furnish such proof, family bibles, court records, and even a silver cup on which the date of the child's birth was inscribed, have been accepted as evidence of ages."

At tonight's session Lewis W. Hine, of New York, is to deliver an address on "The High Cost of Labor, or, Our Moral Buzz Saw." Hine has declared in previous speeches that a 5,000 mile procession of child workers is asking us if we can afford Child Labor. Other speakers will be Pauline M. Newman, general organizer of the International Shirt-Waist Makers' Union, whose subject will be "Child Labor—A Menace to Society" and Wiley H. Swift of Greensboro, N. C.

ROBERTS TRIAL SET FOR FRIDAY

Judge Fortune Refuses to Quash Indictment Against Mayor of Terre Haute.

ATTEMPTS AT DELAY FAIL

[Special to the Daily Republican.]
Terre Haute, Ind., March 16.—Judge Charles M. Fortune late today overruled the motion of Mayor Roberts to quash the indictment returned against him, then quashed the second count of the indictment and entered an order for a special venire of fifty talesmen to be drawn, to report in court Friday morning.

The orders for a venire came only after Eph Inman and W. L. Slinkard, attorneys for Roberts, had used every means possible to delay the trial proceedings. An eleventh-hour effort to obtain a delay of trial was made by Attorney Slinkard, who announced he would present a petition asking the court to require the state to file a bill of particulars showing on what grounds the two remaining counts of the indictment against Roberts are based.

WILL MAKE CITY ABSOLUTELY DRY

Prosecutor at Bloomington Will Ask
Grand Jury to Investigate
Alleged Tigers

MEETS IN SPECIAL SESSION

Chief of Police Stands with State's Attorney in Demanding
Law Enforcements

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., March 17.—Prosecutor J. K. Barclay announced today that he would ask the grand jury, which meets in special session March 23, to investigate the cases of six persons whose houses were raided as "blind tigers" and who are out on bond.

Following the local option election February 26, Barclay and Police Chief Hensley broke with the previous policy of the administration and started the fight to "make Bloomington the driest town in the state because the people want it dry." Charges were made on election day that members of the police department were stationed at the polls by the administration to intimidate voters.

Mayor Harris was known strongly to have favored the cause of the wets, and not to have pushed the prosecution of the alleged "blind tigers." When the result of the recent election was announced Chief Hensley said:

"I am going to make this town dry. They can fire me but I will not quit."

In less than a week he and Barclay had raided six alleged "tigers" in the outskirts. At the home of Mrs. Lizzie Baker almost a barrel of beer was found under the floor. Similar conditions were found in other houses, which are said to have been notorious "tigers."

Already the number in police court for public intoxication is decreasing. The court has met several mornings only to adjourn because of lack of cases to try.

Barclay and Hensley promise to expose some "tigers" that are said to be working on the public square. They say evidence is hard to get on these men, but they hope gradually to get enough to obtain a conviction.

The Bloomington Journal, a publication only a month old, was the only one of the three papers here to declare editorially for the dry cause. The day after the election the Journal demanded that the "tigers" go and called on the officers to lead the fight.

IRISH OF WORLD HONOR ST. PATRICK

Whether His Birthday is the Seventeenth or Eighteenth is a Matter For Much Dispute.

WHAT HE DID FOR IRELAND

(By United Press.)

New York, Mar. 17.—Fifteen hundred and forty-one years ago today, or perhaps tomorrow, the good St. Patrick was born and Irishmen throughout the civilized world observed the day in honor of their patron saint. That St. Patrick was a real man and that he did many of the remarkable things attributed to him is clearly established, but little about his real life is known. He was born about midnight, between March 17 and 18, 373 A. D. Whether it was the 17th or the 18th has been a matter of dispute but the Roman Catholic church settled the matter by declaring March 17 to be Saint Patrick's Day. The birthplace of St. Patrick is also a matter of dispute. The majority of students hold that the saint was born in France. The most reliable accounts have it that St. Patrick was sold into slavery in Ireland when a boy. He managed to escape and went to the Continent, where he acquired an education. He then returned to Ireland as a missionary. Whether or not it was St. Patrick who drove all the snakes and frogs and lizards out of Ireland, which is the most popular legend related of the good saint, the fact remains that there is not a reptile or amphibian on the "Old Sod."

REBEL BASE IN THE NORTH IN DANGER

News Leaks Through Censor Today
That Escalon is About to Fall Into Federal Hands.

VILLA LEAVES FOR THE FRONT

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., Mar. 17.—Escalon, the Rebel base north of Torreon, is in grave danger of falling into the hands of the Federals, according to a code press telegram that escaped the censorship at Chihuahua and was received here today. So serious is the situation that General Villa and his staff hastened to the front.

General Villa left, escorted by a thousand calvarymen. Villa has concentrated his provisions and ammunition at Escalon. A million rounds and food for a long campaign are there.

News of the attacks on Escalon was a great surprise here as no one knew the Federals were so far north. Before Villa left, he ordered the censor to tighten his lines and forbade newspaper correspondents to file anything today.

When You're Sick Your Wages Stop

You know what that means—misery—worry—big bills—debt!

You know you can't afford to get sick. Keeping in good health means food and clothing for you and your family. It is up to you, whenever you don't feel right, to take something to make you right, to strengthen you, build you up, ward off worse sickness—protect you and your family. That thing we have in Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. In offering it to you, we protect you against money-risk, by personally promising you that if it does not restore your health, we will give back your money without word or question. We believe it is the best builder of health energy, and strength you can get. It is helping many of your neighbors. If it does not help you, we will give back your money.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is composed principally of pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites. Each has long been endorsed by successful physicians. Here they are for the first time combined. The result is a remarkable nerve, blood and strength-building remedy that is both food and medicine. For all who are nervous, run-down and debilitated—no matter what the cause; for old people; for convalescents; for puny children, and we know of nothing that will give health and strength as quickly as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a real builder of good blood, strong muscles, good digestion. Pleasant to take, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. If you don't feel well, economize both money and strength by beginning today to take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. Sold only at the Rexall stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00 Lytle's Drug Store Third and Main Rushville, Indiana.

CHAPTER XXVI. The Usual Thing.

MAGEE postponed the protest on the tip of his tongue, and, climbing the gloomy stairs that newspapers always affect, they came into the city room of the Star. Though the paper had been long on the street, the excitement of the greatest coup of years still lingered in the place. Magee saw the deferential smiles that greeted the girl and watched her as she made her way to the city editor's desk. In a moment she was back at his side.

"I've got my assignment," she smiled ruefully. They descended to the street. "It's wonderful," she went on, "how curd a city editor can be with any one who pulls off a good story. The job I've got now reminds me of the experience of an old New York reporter who used to work on the Star."

With difficulty they threaded their way through the crowd and moved along beside the green decked windows.

"He was the first man sent out by his paper on Park row on the Spanish war assignment," she went on, "and he behaved rather brilliantly, I believe. Well, he came back after the fight was over, all puffed up and important, and they told him the city editor wanted him. 'They're going to send me to the Philippines,' he told me he thought as he went into the presence. When the city editor ordered him to rush down to a two alarm fire in Houston street he nearly collapsed. I know how he felt. I feel that way now."

"What was it, a one alarm fire?" asked Magee.

"No," she replied, "a sweet little story about the Christmas toys. I've done it to death every Christmas for three years. Oh, well, I can do it again. But it'll have to wait until after Mrs. Norton's lunch."

She led him into a street where every house was like its neighbor, even to the "Rooms" sign in the windows, and up the steps of one she could have recognized only by counting from the corner. They entered the murky and stereotyped atmosphere of a boarding house hallway, with its inevitable hat-rack and the uncollected letters of the homeless on a table. Mrs. Norton came breezily forth to meet them.

"Well, Mr. Magee," she said, "I certainly am glad you've come. I'm busy on that lunch now. Dearly, show him into the parlor to wait."

Mr. Magee was shown in. That rooming house parlor seemed to moan dimly as it received him.

On an easel was the sad portrait of a gentleman, undoubtedly the late lamented Norton. His uninteresting nose appeared to be turned up at the constant odor of cookery in which it dwelt.

Mr. Magee stared round the room and smiled. Was the romance of reality never to resemble the romance of his dreams? Where were the dim lights, where the distant waltz, where the magic of moonlight amid which he was some day to have told a beautiful girl of his love? Hardly in Mrs. Norton's parlor.

She came and stood in the doorway. Hatless, coatless, smiling, she flooded the place with her beauty. Mr. Magee looked at the flabby angels on the wall, expecting them to hide their faces in shame. But no! They still rode brazenly their unstable clouds. "Come in!" he cried. "Don't leave me alone here again, please. And, tell me, is this the gentleman who took the contract for making Mrs. Norton happy?"

"I—I can't come in," she said, blushing. She seemed to wish to avoid him. "Yes, that is Mr. Norton." She came nearer the easel and smiled at the late lamented's tonsorial crown. "I must leave you—just a moment!"

"You're never going to leave me again," he cried. "Don't you know that? I thought you knew. You're mine. I love you. I love you. It's all I can say, my dearest. Look at me—look at me, please."

"It has happened so quickly," she murmured. "Things can't be true when they happen so quickly."

"A woman's logic," said Mr. Magee. "It has happened. My beautiful girl! Look at me."

And then—she looked. Trembling, flushed, half frightened, half exultant, she lifted her eyes to his.

"My little girl!" he cried down at her. A moment longer she held off and then limply she surrendered. And Billy Magee held her close in his arms.

"Take care of me," she whispered. "I—I love you so!" Her arm went timidly about his shoulders. "Do you want to know my name? It's Mary!"

Mary what? The answer was seemingly of no importance, for Mr. Magee's lips were on hers, crushing the word at its birth.

"Take care of me," she whispered. "I—I love you so!"

But Mr. Magee had forgot.

"What book?" he asked.

"The novel you went to Baldpate to write. Don't you remember, dearest—no melodrama, no wild chase, no—love?"

"Why?" Mr. Magee paused for a moment in the joy of his discovery. Then he came back to the greater joy in his arms.

"Why, darling," he explained gently, "this is it."

THE END.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COSY BUNGALOWS ARRANGED

Plan is to Interest Children—They
Profit from Last Year's Experience in Same Line

(By United Press.)

Huntington, Ind., March 17—With two weeks left of the bird-house contest instituted by Miss Winifred F. Ticer, city librarian, the indications are that when spring opens up and the birds arrive from the south they will find waiting for them many cosy bungalows and a few office buildings. Following the suggestion of Miss Ticer, this city plans to welcome the birds with delegations of bird sharks and to provide them homes, just as the modern city plays host to the skilled labor for a new factory.

The third grade youngster who last year built a substantial structure bearing over its door the words "jenny renn's house" is now at work on a 1914 model. He is profiting from his last year's experience, and this house is broad enough so that when the occupant is at home both his bill and his tail are sheltered from the elements.

Two boys are making a large martin house in partnership. They have kept their plans secret, but the house is known to be two or three stories high and will probably be the business center of the bird community.

This year Miss Ticer has taken particular care to suggest substantial materials and individuality. The rough bark of a tree is good for the roof. The boys studying manual training appear to be most interested. Miss Ticer believes that as a result of the contest the children will be more interested in birds. She has offered to buy the ten houses that suit her best—unless the owner asks a prohibitive price.

GLENWOOD

James Ochiltree, the oldest resident of our little village, passed his seventy-fifth milestone on the thirteenth inst, which happened to be Friday of this year.

Mrs. Ollie Newman, her three children, Mr and Mrs. Frank Murphy, and daughter Louise and Lon Ochiltree were at Mr. Ochiltree's home on the day he was seventy-five years old and had a sumptuous dinner. Mr. Ochiltree from all appearances has perfect health and is able to do manual labor. He cuts wood in the winter and carpenters in the summer time. Years ago he and his father ran a planing mill and manufactured some household furnishings, such as safes, dinning tables, wash stands, and the like, and they were made for wear. Several are still in this vicinity. The old planing mill burned down and another was erected farther down in town and later it was sold and torn down and moved away and a town hall made out of it. We hope Mr. Ochiltree will have many more birthday's.

Rev. Walker preached a temperance sermon on Sunday morning and at the conclusion all present signed a petition to the national congress asking for a constitutional amendment. The women were asked to sign the petition too. He also preached at 7:30 P. M.

The usual services were held at the U. P. church Sabbath afternoon. There will be a St. Patrick's social at Mingles hall Tuesday night.

Mr. Ludlow is getting along very nicely since he remains in bed. His leg was swelling rapidly until he lay in bed. It was also giving him much pain.

Mrs Coers is improving in health quite slowly.

The measles and chicken pox are still the rage. George Jones, Green Thompson, Clarence Carr and Clarence Simpson are able to be out.

There is talk of a picture show here soon and we will make Connersville and Rushville suburbs of Glenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks and son Raymon of Indianapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stewart of Connersville attended the play "The District School" Saturday night and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stewart until Sunday evening.

Bro. Oldham filled his regular appointment at the Christian church Sunday. He will preach the 3d and 5th Sundays of every month during the year.

Miss Mayme Thompson, a teacher of the Bentonville school, was the guest of Miss Edna Trobaugh Saturday and Sunday.

The ladies of the C. W. B. M. will entertain their husbands with a "pitch-in" supper Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Bowen.

MEETING IS POSTPONED

Parent-Teachers Meeting Next Month to be of Wide Appeal.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the High School, which was to have been held at the Graham high school building this evening, has been postponed until next month, it was announced late yesterday afternoon. The definite date has not been fixed. The postponement was decided on so that a more elaborate program may be arranged. It is the intention of the officers to make this coming meeting of interest to the whole community and issue a general invitation to everybody.

Mayor Cured; Skin Cleared By D. D. D.

Mayor Chapman of Ellis, Kansas, courteously says he will answer any letters written him relative to his truly marvelous cure of skin trouble with the D. D. D. Prescription. Mayor Chapman writes: "I think how I suffered last winter, how I could do no work. I was covered with terrible blotches, sometimes weeping water, sometimes worse, blotches sometimes 10 inches in diameter. FEARFUL ITCHING. It was only accidentally that I learned of the famous specific D. D. D. I write this in all gratitude for what D. D. D. has done for me." Results from the use of D. D. D. are immediate. The first, soft, cool touch and the itch is gone! Pimples, rashes, dandruff, disappear over night. Hard crusts and scales, raw scorching sores, salt rheum, tetter, no form of skin disease resists. All druggists have this famous specific on hand. If you will come to us we will sell you the first bottle on the guarantee that it will reach your case or your money refunded. You alone to judge. Ask also about D. D. D. Skin Soap, best for tender skin.

Jack Dillon Finds it Necessary to Fight out of Class if Cashier is to Have Any Work.

RECENTLY BEAT JIM FLYNN

H. A. Ballenger of Detroit Also Takes Occasion to Hand One to Jimmy Clabby

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 17.—Writing for the United Press under a Detroit date line, H. A. Ballenger, a sport writer, has some things to say about the two prizes of Indiana in the pug circle. He comments on the "announcement" that Jack Dillon is no longer a middleweight, and then shifts to Jimmy Clabby, speaking of the Hammond lad slandering sly as "the Milwaukee Phenom." In part, Ballenger writes:

"When he met Freddie Hicks in Windsor a few weeks ago, Dillon weighed exactly 163 pounds, five pounds over the limit. He had not trained for the bout and subsequent events proved that he was correct in believing that formality unnecessary.

"He was, at that time, preparing to meet Jim Flynn, champion "white hope crusher" and he did not desire to take too much weight so short a time before a battle with an acknowledged heavyweight. It is the personal knowledge of the writer that Dillon can make the middleweight limit, weighing in at ringside, within two weeks notice."

"As to Jimmy Clabby. The record of the Milwaukee phenom is liberally sprinkled with K. O.'s but even a casual glance over the list will convince the unprejudiced that the genial Jimmy hasn't much to boast of in these events. Knocking out such persons as Young Poso, Jos Clement, Charlie King, Bob Salavin, Tim Land, Dick Fitzpatrick and Jack Robinson, is far from performance enough to warrant anyone in claiming a title. Clabby's inability to obtain more than a draw verdict with our own champion in the club class, Freddie Hicks, and his loss to Dave Smith of Australia, who was easy meat for many American middles will about balance his knockout record.

"That Jack Dillon is now meeting heavyweights is acknowledged but 'there's a reason'. And that reason is that middleweights have refused to meet the Indianapolis contender of ten enough to keep the cashier in steady work."

Evidently Ballenger isn't at all sore at the Hoosier Bear Cat.

SCOTT BUELL IS WINNER OF CUP

Receives Highest Grade in Stock Judging Contest at Purdue University.

GETS 1105 POINTS OUT OF 1200

Scott E. Buell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell, of east of the city, was the winner of a large silver loving cup for the highest grade in a stock judging contest at Purdue University last week. Mr. Buell has been in attendance at the short course and the judging contest was the climax of the winter's work. Mr. Buell was a student in the animal husbandry course. The cup is about twelve inches high and is a trophy that anyone would be glad to own. The winner has his name engraved on the cup and it remains in the office of the department at the university.

The judging of the horses started Tuesday afternoon at the Crouch Stock farm and was not concluded until Thursday when the judging took place at the Purdue farm. The local boy scored 1105 points out of a possible 1200. The scoring this year was exceptionally high and speaks much for the ability of Mr. Buell.

OTHER TEAMS GETTING READY

Connersville Gets Pick of Cincinnati Y. M. I. Team Including Kiefel, the Catcher.

NEWCASTLE LOSES ROMINE

From Present Indications Arcadians Appear to be the Equal of These Two Teams.

Much favorable comment was heard last night on the lineup of the Rushville team for the coming season. The fans would welcome a winning team and it is believed with the material already signed the Arcadians will make all comers step lively. The fans are wondering just how the Arcadians stack up along side the teams from other cities.

Over at Connersville Jack Remington has secured what looks to be the pick of the Y. M. I. team last year from Cincinnati. George Kiefel, the heavy hitting catcher of that club has signed to play there. The pitcher will be Bacon of Cincinnati, who, at one time had a chance for a tryout with the Reds. Scott Coolley will be carried along as utility pitcher. Remington has also signed O'Connell for short stop and Dacy for second base. Remington has secured a good battery and should make other teams play ball to win.

Up at Newcastle, the team is naturally weakened by the loss of Romine, who will play with the Indianapolis Reserves and tend bar for Andy Reinhart. The management has signed Jack Moran to pitch. Moran was with Shelbyville last year and may be a good pitcher with fast company behind him. Eddie Cook, formerly of the local team will play second base for Newcastle, and the rest of the team will line up as last year. There is a rumor however that Brubaker, the clever little short stop of the Hoosiers, will not be back.

On paper the Arcadians appear to be as strong as the other teams and some real baseball is expected. Manager Fisher is endeavoring to book a fast team for the opening Sunday, April 19.

CITY OFFICIALS WAIT ON JUDGE

The Traction and Terminal Company already has announced that it is willing for the service commission to assume the duties of arbiters. The men have insisted that each side should appoint an arbiter, the two thus chosen to select the third, and it was in the interest of this plan that the union's committee called on Governor Ralston.

J. J. Thorpe asserted last night that the proposition made by the Governor and the Service Commission is very unsatisfactory to the men, but that their future action will depend largely on the conference between the union representatives and the company officials today.

In announcing the new proposition the Governor took occasion to condemn J. J. Thorpe, vice president of the amalgamated association, as a trouble maker and to place at his door responsibility for the present difficulties in which the Indianapolis company and its men are involved.

The governor expressed the opinion that with Thorpe eliminated from the local situation the street car men would experience little difficulty in adjusting all differences and in a manner which would be beneficial to them. Thorpe has remained in the city since he organized the car men last fall and directed the strike.

The average distance covered by a team and wagon is sixteen to twenty miles a day, and that of an automobile is forty to sixty miles.

FIRST THEY COULDN'T FIND PREACHER, THEN THEY LOST MARRIAGE LICENSE

This Couple Sure Had Plenty of Trouble in Breaking Into Matrimonial Game.

SQUIRE COMES TO RESCUE

If all people had as much trouble getting married as Thomas Merritt and Tillie Rolfes had yesterday afternoon the chances are the marriage license clerk would have one long, grand holiday. First they struck a preacher who refused to marry them and then they lost the license after they had the squire all set for the ceremony.

The couple wanted the Rev. Mr. Wainseott of the Heavenly Recruit church to perform the ceremony, but because the bride had been divorced he would not tie the knot. Squire Kratzer was appealed to and consented to officiate. The ceremony was to take place in the clerk's office and when they went to produce the license it could not be found.

Clerk Taylor was in the process of issuing another license when the telephone rang. It was the Knecht clothing store and the party informed the clerk that he had a perfectly good marriage license that he could not use. Clerk Taylor issued the new license and told the clothing store to destroy the first one. The wedding was then performed.

F. S. C. WICKS WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Indianapolis Man Who Missed First Engagement Writes That he Expects to Speak Next Week.

The Rev. Frank S. C. Wicks of Indianapolis, who was prevented from speaking in Rushville by the heavy snow storm two weeks ago, will come here to fill the engagement under the auspices of the public library board Tuesday evening, March 24. The Rev. Mr. Wicks was to have spoken on the subject, "The Religious Teaching of Browning," and he will use the same subject when he speaks here next Tuesday night.

The Rev. Mr. Wicks has written to members of the board that it was the first time in all of his career as a public speaker that he missed an engagement. He said he was very sensitive on this subject and that he was very desirous of coming to Rushville.

WELLESLEY GIRLS' PLUCK SAVE MANY

Fire Brigade Empties College Hall of 410 Young Women in 3 Minutes—Loss is $1,000,000.

(By United Press.)

Wellesley, Mass., March 17.—Through the bravery and quick work of the Wellesley fire brigade, composed of college girls, four hundred and ten girls were saved today when fire destroyed the college hall with a loss of one million dollars.

Mary O'Mahoney, chief of the college fire brigade, directed the rescue work, arousing girls and rushing them, partially clad, on to the campus. Through the quick work of the girls, the big building, five stories high and four hundred feet long, was emptied in three minutes.

At chapel held as usual today, President Helen Pendleton announced that the college will be closed until the end of the regular spring vacation April 7.

COMPROMISE RUMORED NOW

Said to be a Possibility of A. P. Walker Settling With His Creditors in Near Future.

FOR 70 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR

Walker Lists Large Amount of Stock in Many Concerns and Notes as Assets.

Persistent rumors are going the rounds that there is great probability of a settlement between A. P. Walker and his creditors who have already forced him into the hands of a receiver and against whom there are now a number of civil suits pending.

It will be recalled that a meeting of the creditors to whom Walker is indebted the most was held in the office of Walker's attorney, William M. Henley, in Indianapolis last Saturday. The purpose of the meeting was to talk compromise.

It is stated by a number who were in the meeting that not one objection to compromise was voiced by any representative of any creditor present. It was stated by Walker's attorney that he only knew of one creditor, who is a Rushville man, who seriously objected to compromise and that he thought that man could be persuaded to act with the rest of the creditors in accepting terms.

It is understood seventy cents on the dollar was the sum mentioned at which Walker was willing to settle. It is stated that he could save some money out of the crash by making this sort of a settlement, but that in the other event of the continued court fight, a good bit of the assets of the former cattle importer would be wasted and his creditors would have to be satisfied with less.

Walker's statement of assets and liabilities has been made a matter of public record in the court house. He gives his liabilities at $54,920 and his assets at $28,065 in notes, a number of shares of stock in various concerns and personal property.

The creditors and the sum owed them are all set forth. The notes for $5,500, $2,800, $6,000, $3,500, $690 and $5,075. The latter, it is stated in the inventory, is a note due Jeremy Walker, father of A. P. Walker. That sum was loaned him by his father, Walker stated, to help buy his farm.

The stock and personal property includes: 7 shares of stock in the Indiana National Bank of Indianapolis, 20 shares of stock in the Actua Trust company of Indianapolis, 25 shares in the Farmers Trust Company of Rushville, 17 shares in the Rushville Glove Company, 11 shares in the Ideal Husker Company, half interest in an auto, half interest in farm machinery, half interest in 35 cattle, 15 cattle, half interest in 40 registered hogs, half interest in 30 hogs not registered, three horses, half interest in four horses and two colts and a farm of 120 acres.

In the inventory it is also stated that Walker is the owner of an additional twenty shares of stock in the Rushville Glove company but that he has never received a certificate showing ownership although he has paid for the same.

GAINS FREEDOM ON PAROLE

Fred Floyd Serves Year and is Released.

Fred Floyd, colored, who was sentenced to serve one to eight years in the State Reformatory at Jeffersonville, has been paroled and is now working for Pete Johnson, north of the city. Floyd served one year of his sentence. He pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced March 13, 1913, by Judge Megee. Floyd, it will be remembered took a suit case from the traction station belonging to Miss Olive Traylor, formerly a teacher in the local high school. He is said to have had a good record at the reformatory and was made a trusty after being there a short time.

DEATH COMES TO WILLIAM JULIAN

WIDOW AND TWO SONS SURVIVE

Wm. P. Julian, 76 years old, one of the pioneer residents of this county died this morning at seven-thirty o'clock at his home, two miles south of Milroy. He had been in ill health for some time, but the direct cause of his death was blood poisoning. Mr. Julian irritated his face by rubbing and blood poison resulted.

Mr. Julian was the son of the late Isaac Julian and was born May 6, 1837. He lived practically all his life on his farm in Anderson township. He was married in 1867 to Miss Eliza Overleese. Mr. Julian was well known in the southern part of the county. He is survived by his widow and two sons, George W. Julian and Thomas A. Julian. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday but the exact hour has not been determined.

LEADERS FIXING UP SLATE TODAY

Fate of Several Democratic State Candidates Lies in What Constitutes The Program.

RALSTON'S SPEECH READY

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—One might look in any direction here today with the chance of seeing influential Democratic politicians slipping away for conferences over proposed slates for the state convention which will be held tomorrow and Thursday.

Candidates for office were busy today about the hotels, particularly the Denison. Today and tomorrow will be trying days for them, for the fate of several lie in the slate being prepared by the leaders.

Governor Ralston's keynote speech, a voluminous document, is back from the printer.

WILSON SURPRISED.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 17.—Surprise at the lack of state wide primaries in so great and wide-awake a state as Indiana and a hearty wish they may be put in effect are expressed in a letter by President Wilson to Sen. Kern who will leave tonight to attend the Indiana Democratic convention.

BOARD TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

Preliminary Work Will be Closed at Session of Directors of Chamber of Commerce.

COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED

Executive Committee Hears Partial Report From Finance Committee—Pays Bills.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Rush county will be held in the headquarters of the Chamber in the Odd Fellows building next Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

At that time the board will close up the preliminary organization work so that the regular routine work of the Chamber may go forward. Such things as the consideration of the appointment of the standing committees will come up.

The officials of the Chamber who announced the meeting for Friday night said today that it was very much desired that there be a full attendance of the directors because of the many important things which will be discussed.

It is felt that the standing committees should be named at once so that they can begin their work. It was not desired that the standing committees be appointed until after the first month's dues were collected, and this accounts for the delay in this part of the organization. There are other things, as well to be brought before the board.

The executive committee met late yesterday afternoon to hear the reports on the finance committee which was named to collect the dues for the first month, but only a half dozen members of the board, who were assigned to collect from a given number of persons reported.

The reports received from those half dozen members were very flattering for the future of the Chamber. They were in effect that all of the members who were approached concerning the collection of the first month's dues were very enthusiastic about the Chamber and expected great things of it. The remaining reports on collections will be received at the meeting of the board of directors Friday night.

In addition to hearing the report of some members of the finance committee and calling the meeting of the board for Friday night, the executive committee voted to pay a few small bills which had accumulated since the organization was launched and then adjourned.

COMPANY IS REORGANIZED

Firm is Known as Excelsior Creamery Company.

The Rushville Creamery company was reorganized last night. The new company is to be known as the Excelsior Creamery Co., and will be incorporated for $10,000. The property was disposed of last Saturday at the receiver's sale to Charles Sefton. The officers of the new company are: Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, president; Charles Sefton, vice-president; and Harry Kramer, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors is composed of the officers and Jacob Feudner, Claude Walker and A. R. Holden. The business will continue as in the past and the expert butter maker will remain in charge of the plant.

TESTIMONIALS AT THE REVIVAL

Preceding Sermon Monday Night, Many Testify to Their Satisfaction in Decision Made.

TRAVELING MAN MAKES TALK

Rev. L. A. Harriman Says True Religious Life Depends on Inward Power Which Changes Heart.

The large attendance at the series of meetings in the Methodist church continues. Last night preceding the sermon a testimonial service was held in which a large number testified to their satisfaction in the decision they had made for Christ. A traveling man added interest to this service by telling of Billy Sunday's meetings which he had attended in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Harriman preached from Jas. 1:26-27, "If any man thinketh himself to be religious, while he brideth not his own tongue, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and keep himself unspotted from the world."

He spoke of the necessity of a true religious life, and pointed out that this depended upon an inward power which changed the heart. One was not apt to keep himself "unspotted from the world" without such power, he said. Fundamentally religion consisted in two things, conformity of God's will, and an outward moral discipline or life which corresponded to the profession, he concluded.

Tonight, a special service will be held for young people. The Boy Scouts, under the leadership of C. E. Waldon, will attend in a body. Mr. Harriman, who is a Scout Master and also a First Lieutenant in the National Guards, will speak on a topic of interest to the boys.

This afternoon the Bible reading was held at the residence of Willard Amos in North Perkins street. Tomorrow afternoon and each afternoon the rest of this week the Bible reading and lecture by Mr. Harriman will be held at the church. The night services will also continue each night during the week, the time being 7:30 o'clock.

COMMITTEEMEN MEET SATURDAY

Republican County Committee Will Fix Date for County Convention and to Choose Delegates.

FOR MANY CONVENTIONS

Fon Riggs, county chairman of the Republican party and Charles J. Brooks, secretary, yesterday issued a call for the meeting of the precinct committeemen, who comprise the county committee, to be held in the court house assembly room next Saturday afternoon, March 21, at one o'clock.

The meeting has several purposes in view. In the first place the committee will set a date for the county convention to nominate the county ticket and a date to nominate the township tickets. At the same time a date will be set to select delegates to the state, congressional, judicial, county and councilmanic conventions.

SCORE MAY BE DEAD UNDER FALLEN WALL

(By United Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 17.—The west wall of the Missouri Athletic club fell late this afternoon, catching a score of workmen. Cries of the injured were heard. It is feared there are many dead. Ambulances were called for and a fire alarm was sent in. The wall towered several stories high and was seventeen inches thick. Later reports say nineteen are missing and buried under the wall.

MRS. JOHN WIDAU EXPIRED

Passed Away This Afternoon at Her Home Near Raleigh.

Mrs. Minnie Widau, 35 years old, wife of John Widau, died this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at her home southwest of Raleigh. Mrs. Widau had been ill for several months and death was expected. For the past two weeks she had been in a serious condition. Death was due to a complication of diseases. Mrs. Widau was well known and was one of the highly respected women of the Raleigh neighborhood. Her death comes as a shock to her many friends. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Allan and Gerald Widau. The funeral arrangements have not been completed but the remains will be taken to Economy, Ind., her old home, for burial.

HE WILL UNEARTH ROTTEN POLITICS

Prosecutor at Evansville Says he Will Show Conditions Similar to Terre Haute's.

THE GRAND JURY MEETS TODAY

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., Mar. 17.—When the Vanderburg county grand jury met here today, Prosecutor Sapperfield announced that he would investigate rumors of the alleged bi-partisan alliance in the recent Republican primaries held in Evansville.

Conditions will be found as rotten here as they were at Terre Haute, he said. He charged the Freddie Osenberg wing of the Republican party of combining with the Democrats for a consideration to elect Mayor Bosse and intimated that the appointment of Osenberg and others of his wing to city positions substantiated his charges.

Prosecutor Sapperfield said he would issue subpoenas for the heads of all four parties locally to appear before the grand jury. He said the probe would be thorough.

COURT DARK.

There was no court today and there will probably not be any Wednesday or Thursday. Judge Megee was in Indianapolis today meeting old acquaintances gathered there for the Democratic state convention, which opens tomorrow. He will likely remain for all the "doings" connected with the convention.

UNFAIRNESS ALLEGED.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 17.—The Department of Justice office admitted today that application for a pardon has been received in behalf of the labor leaders convicted at Indianapolis in the famous dynamite conspiracy case. Text of the application was not made public, but it is stated they are based on the alleged unfairness of Judge Anderson of the Indiana district.

CITY OFFICIALS WAIT ON JUDGE

Terre Haute Attorney and Police Chief Come Into Federal Court Today to Fight For Order.

TO KEEP PEOPLE OFF CARS

Budge Federal Judge Heard it Was Recinded and Left—Cars Running Today.

UNION MEN STILL OUT.

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Mar. 17.—Cars were running regularly here today though there were few passengers. The officials of the T. H. I. & E. announced that all employees who worked for the company Saturday before the strike were still in its employe and that none would be discharged until it had been proved that he had been guilty of inciting violence.

The union men are still on a strike and declare they will not return to work until arrangements have been made to have the public service commission arbitrate all disputes arising in the future from the discharge of men.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—While City Attorney Batt and Chief of Police Holler of Terre Haute waited at Federal court here today for Judge Baker, that gentleman was in his office in Chicago. The Terre Haute man came over to the expected hearing on their order that no one should ride on Terre Haute street cars during the strike.

Judge Baker was informed last night the order was rescinded in Terre Haute. He at once left for Chicago. The Terre Haute officials are now attempting to get the traction company to dismiss its petition regarding the order.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 17.—The issuance of a temporary Federal Court injunction to prevent the men on the city car lines in Terre Haute from engaging in a strike and a declaration by Governor Ralston that an offer of the Public Service Commission to serve as a board of arbitration in the Indianapolis disputes is final, so far as the state is concerned, were the principal developments in the car situations here and in Terre Haute up to late last night. The service commission's offer to serve as a board of arbitration was made at the request of the Governor, when it was seen that the plan, announced Saturday, for the commission to appoint an arbitration board was not satisfactory.

Another factor in the local situation was the announcement that a final conference on the question of reinstating thirty-one discharged employees will be held today by the executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employees and the officers of the Traction and Terminal Company.

The announcement of the Governor that the offer of members of the service commission to serve as arbiters is final was made when members of the executive committee of the local carmen's union called at his office and entered a protest against the commission appointing an arbitration board or itself serving as such.

"You can acquiesce in that plan or accept the responsibility of declining."

AUTHORITY TO WRITE POLICIES

Auditor of State Says Pension Mutual is Qualified to do Business in Indiana.

TOOK OVER COMMERCIAL LIFE

Was Not a Stock Company, But Underwriters Company Was Organized to Sell Insurance.

Offense has been taken by some persons holding policies in the defunct Commercial Life Insurance company of Indiana, that once was, at a story published in the Daily Republican, Monday, February 9 to the effect that the Pension Mutual Life Insurance company of Pittsburgh, Pa., which took over the old Commercial Life, was not authorized to do business.

The article was based on a letter written and signed by Charles Johnson, insurance commissioner of Pennsylvania, in which he stated the Pension Mutual was at that time operating under a special charter granted by the legislature, prior to the organization of the Pennsylvania insurance department, and that at that time the Pension Mutual had complied with the insurance department, or the insurance laws, and was not authorized to do business. These were the exact words of the insurance commissioner.

The insurance commissioner further stated in this letter that he had a letter from the president of the Pension Mutual in which it was stated the company was at work preparing the reserve sheets of the company, which, when completed, were to be sent to the chief actuary in New York for valuation, and when this had been done, according to the plan outlined in the letter, they were to be sent to the state insurance commissioner for the approval of the state actuary of the insurance department. After he examined the reserve sheets, the letter stated, he would have examined the company.

Of course, the power of Mr. Johnson extended only throughout the state of Pennsylvania. When complaint was made by holders of policies in the old Commercial Life, a letter was written to W. H. O'Brien, auditor of Indiana, asking for an opinion on the question. The state auditor asked for a copy of the newspaper containing the article, after which he promised to respond to questions asked. Mr. O'Brien, however, has never found time to respond since the article was sent to him.

But a letter is at hand from the state auditor which was received by a policy holder in the old Commercial Life, in which the Indiana state auditor says the Pension Mutual is authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania. He writes:

"In reply to your of the 28th ult. I would say: The Pension Mutual Life Insurance company of Pittsburgh, Pa., is authorized to write insurance in this state. They are also authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania. It is a special charter company and I cannot understand how you happened to interpret Mr. Johnson's letter as you say. We have letters from Mr. Johnson in which he says they are authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania."

"The Pension Mutual, having reinsured the live policies of the Commercial, reinsured your policy, and I must say you are safer with your Commercial policy in the Pension Mutual than you were in the Commercial, as the Pension Mutual is solvent and able to pay its obligations."

The Republican is awaiting a reply from the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner to explain away some of the conflicting statements. In one letter Mr. Johnson states the Pension Mutual is not authorized to issue policies or transact any insurance business (referring to Pennsylvania) and the auditor of Indiana states the Pension Mutual is authorized to write insurance not only in Indiana, but Pennsylvania also.

The Republican was in error in stating some Rush county people had stock in the old Commercial Life. It was not a stock company, but there was organized an underwriters company, separate and distinct from the Commercial insurance on the Commercial's books, and some of that stock was owned in Rush county. This caused the confusion.

It was stated in the original article that this example explained the need of strengthening the Indiana insurance laws. Local agents of Indiana companies were displeased by this statement and have pointed to the fact that the Pension Mutual was authorized to do business in Indiana when the auditor of Indiana allowed the policies of the Commercial Life to be transferred to the Pension Mutual. The statements of the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner applied to Pennsylvania only. Indiana insurance men point to the statement of the Pennsylvania insurance commissioner, printed on folders sent out by the Pension Mutual, that the Pension Mutual has complied with the Pennsylvania law authorizing insurance companies to do business in other states and with the United States government. This gave the Indiana auditor of state ample reason for allowing the transfer of the Commercial policies to the Pension Mutual, they say.

USES HATPIN IN DEFENSE

Miss Mabel Hudson of Connersville Resists Attack of Man.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Connersville, Ind., Mar. 17.—While being dragged down an alley last night by a tall, well dressed man, who was choking her, Miss Mabel Hudson 19 years old, jabbed a long hatpin into her assailant's body repeatedly, causing him to drop her to the ground. The girl fought the man for several minutes before her cries were heard. Dr. M. H. Zehrung, reading in his home near by, rushed to the scene, armed with a revolver. The girl's assailant ran and disappeared in the river bottoms east of the city. He nearly choked the young woman to death before she was able to reach her hatpin. She was returning home from town and hearing a man close behind her, started to run. The man caught her just as she crossed an alley. When the girl began to scream the man choked her. The police and a posse of citizens searched the river lowlands all night, but failed to find a trace of the man.

TO DO HONOR TO SAINT PATRICK

Irish People of Rushville Will Celebrate His Birthday With Entertainment Tonight.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HALL

The Irish people of Rushville will do honor to the memory of their patron saint by an entertainment in the Knights of Columbus Hall this evening. A lecture will be given by J. P. O'Mahony, editor of the Indiana Catholic, on "Ireland of Today." Mr. O'Mahony is well known for his incisive contributions to the press on Irish questions. He is intensely interested in the affairs of the old country, and speaks most vigorously on his favorite theme. P. J. Kelleher of Indianapolis will also deliver an address.

Following is the program:

Overture, "Irish Airs"—Piano, Miss Jennie Madden; violin, Orlando Simmes.

Vocal Solo, "Killarney And You"—Miss Henrietta Talbert.

Some Explanations

The cry of Democracy for years has been that the tariff was the solution of the high cost of living problem. Furthermore the Democratic office seekers who were out of office and wanted to heap ridicule on the Republican tariff as the mother of monopoly and the harbor of the trusts.

With these things in view, the Indiana state Journal points that if this theory is found false, all of the opposition to the Payne-McClary tariff bill falls flat. If the consumer does not reap a benefit from the change in the rates on imports, what good is done? Nothing except that the big middlemen and certain importers are helped. The chief aim of the United States is to help the producer.

The following from Holland, the New York correspondent of two independent newspapers, the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer, certainly makes interesting reading, laid alongside of the output that has proceeded from the downward revisers, who succeeded in making the people believe that by striking down the American producer you could bring relief to the American consumer. Holland says:

"The experts in the custom house are reported to be somewhat puzzled by the official figures, which show a great falling off in custom revenues, especially since the new tariff law went into effect. It is not strange, the experts say, that there should be a large falling off in custom revenues, notwithstanding the great increase in importation since the new tariff law greatly reduced tariff rates and considerably increased the free list. That is what was expected. But the curious feature is discovered in the fact that, notwithstanding the large falling off in receipts at the custom houses, no lessening of the cost of commodities, excepting in two or three instances, has been reported. Not even the heavy importation of beef and corn from South America has served to reduce the cost of these foods. Some food products cost more now than they did under the old tariff law.

"Those who are customers of the shops where clothing, silks and fabrics of all kinds are dealt in report that prices have not decreased notwithstanding heavy importations of some articles of these kinds. Sugar alone maintains its paradoxical market conditions, since the tendency has been the case for some years. It is the only necessary of life of which the cost has decreased.

"There were many persons in the United States, some of them being in public life, who were glad that a test was to be made of the soundness contained in the arguments of those who said that a low tariff would reduce the cost of many commodities and would serve also to increase importations. Even some men who are of strong protective convictions confessed that the time had come when a test should be made so that it could be learned precisely what the effect of a high tariff is upon American industries and the cost of commodities made and marketed in the United States.

"Nelson Dingley, at one time chairman of the ways and means committee in the House of Representatives, and the author of the tariff law which bears his name, was never surpassed as a student, practical and scientific, theoretical of the relation of the tariff to American business life and to the prices charged for commodities in the American market. Governor Dingley's studies convinced him that while there might be danger in a protective system which leveled too high rates, it was a danger which cured itself in the long run. He was convinced that whatever may have been the fact in the days before there was rapid steamship communication with other lands and almost instantaneous cable connection, it is the fact in these times that a low tariff will not especially affect the cost of commodities to American consumers, although a low tariff might make great and sweeping changes in American industries inevitable.

"The experts say that it is altogether too soon to base with confidence any judgment upon the permanent effect of the new tariff law, although they do admit that so far it seems as though the tariff is not securing the chief benefits which those who framed it looked for, namely, a reduction in the cost of commodities, especially the necessities of life.

"The government reports that customs revenues in February of this year were $10,000,000 below the revenue collected a year ago, although importations were considerably increased. The wonder is, then, where that $10,000,000 went. The American public does not seem to have gained any benefit from a reduction in customs charges, which caused a falling off of $10,000,000 in revenue for a single month. Did the exporters who live in other lands take advantage of the reduced tariff to add to their charges? Did they 'tuck on' a little when exporting commodities which had been placed on the free list?"

The Daily Republican is still holding off the temptation to make "easy money" at the expense of the Rushville merchants by issuing special editions and other such advertising grafts, the long end of which always goes to the stranger who has only a passing and pecuniary interest in the city. Every week the Republican is solicited and urged to take up with this or that scheme, all of them being beyond the bounds of legitimate advertising in that a special rate is to be charged for space that the advertiser could buy for regular rates. The Daily Republican goes on the theory that advertising in this newspaper of bona fide and guaranteed circulation is an investment and not an experiment. Its crowded advertising columns testify to the fact that there is plenty of legitimate business without needlessly separating merchants from their money.

If it be necessary that we be robbed again by what the Democrats call the iniquitous tariff, in order that the factory wheels whirl again; in order that the hundreds of thousands of unemployed throughout the land be again put to work at remunerative wages, then let the robbery begin without further delay. But were we robbed? The advocates of the low tariff or no tariff loudly proclaimed that, once they had charged and power to reduce the tariff the country would revel in low priced commodities of all sorts by reason of importations. Apparently, if there has been any reduction the importer is the fellow who has been benefitted. Besides all this, what doth it profit the laboring man without employment and without money how cheap commodities may become?

SUPERVISION IS NECESSARY

Child Labor Committee Secretary
Says at Conference Uniformity is Needed.

EXAMINATION IS ADVISED

"The High Cost of Labor, or Our Moral Buzz Saw" Will be Topic of Big Address.

(By United Press.)

New Orleans, La., Mar. 17.—Because of the complications involved in issuing work permits to children under the child labor law limit, uniform blanks and statewide supervision are necessary to real enforcement of the law, according to Geo. A. Hall, secretary of the New York Child Labor Committee, who today delivered the principal address at the tenth National Child Labor Conference which has been in session since Sunday afternoon.

Only after a child has undergone a thorough physical examination, according to Secretary Hall, should the request for a permit to work be granted. "Children, aided and abetted by their parents have been known to attempt many shrewd methods of escaping the law even in thorough physical tests," declared Secretary Hall. "There have been cases in which boys faced an examiner with pockets filled with stones or lead or sand so as to bring themselves up to the required weight. There is a great deal of necessary red-tape involved in the proper issuance of work permits. Parents have been known to alter dates of birth certificates so as to work a child who is below the legal age, adequate documentary proof of age, should be required. Even among the great foreign born population of New York 75 per cent. of the children are able to furnish such proof, family bibles, court records, and even a silver cup on which the date of the child's birth was inscribed, have been accepted as evidence of ages."

At tonight's session Lewis W. Hine, of New York, is to deliver an address on "The High Cost of Labor, or Our Moral Buzz Saw." Hine has declared in previous speeches that a 5,000 mile procession of child workers is asking us if we can afford Child Labor. Other speakers will be Pauline M. Newman, general organizer of the International Shirt-Waist Makers' Union, whose subject will be "Child Labor—A Menace to Society" and Wiley H. Swift of Greensboro, N. C.

ROBERTS TRIAL SET FOR FRIDAY

Judge Fortune Refuses to Quash Indictment Against Mayor of Terre Haute.

ATTEMPTS AT DELAY FAIL

[Special to the Daily Republican.]
Terre Haute, Ind., March 16.—Judge Charles M. Fortune late today overruled the motion of Mayor Roberts to quash the indictment returned against him, then quashed the second count of the indictment and entered an order for a special venire of fifty takersmen to be drawn, to report in court Friday morning.

The orders for a venire came only after Eph Hman and W. L. Slinkard, attorneys for Roberts, had used every means possible to delay the trial proceedings. An eleventh-hour effort to obtain a delay of trial was made by Attorney Slinkard, who announced he would present a petition asking the court to require the state to file a bill of particulars showing on what grounds the two remaining counts of the indictment against Roberts are based.

WILL MAKE CITY ABSOLUTELY DRY

Prosecutor at Bloomington Will Ask Grand Jury to Investigate Alleged Tigers

MEETS IN SPECIAL SESSION

Chief of Police Stands with State's Attorney in Demanding Law Enforcements

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., March 17.—Prosecutor J. K. Barclay announced today that he would ask the grand jury, which meets in special session March 23, to investigate the cases of six persons whose houses were raided as "blind tigers" and who are out on bond.

Following the local option election February 26, Barclay and Police Chief Hensley broke with the previous policy of the administration and started the fight to "make Bloomington the driest town in the state because the people want it dry." Charges were made on election day that members of the police department were stationed at the polls by the administration to intimidate voters.

Mayor Harris was known strongly to have favored the cause of the wets, and not to have pushed the prosecution of the alleged "blind tigers." When the result of the recent election was announced Chief Hensley said:

"I am going to make this town dry. They can fire me but I will not quit."

In less than a week he and Barclay had raided six alleged "tigers" in the out-kirts. At the home of Mrs. Lizzie Baker almost a barrel of beer was found under the floor. Similar conditions were found in other houses, which are said to have been notorious "tigers."

Already the number in police court for public intoxication is decreasing. The court has met several mornings only to adjourn because of lack of cases to try.

Barclay and Hensley promise to expose some "tigers" that are said to be working on the public square. They say evidence is hard to get on these men, but they hope gradually to get enough to obtain a conviction.

The Bloomington Journal, a publication only a month old, was the only one of the three papers here to declare editorially for the dry cause. The day after the election the Journal demanded that the "tigers" go and called on the officers to lead the fight.

IRISH OF WORLD HONOR ST. PATRICK

Whether His Birthday is the Seventeenth or Eighteenth is a Matter For Much Dispute.

WHAT HE DID FOR IRELAND

(By United Press.)

New York, Mar. 17.—Fifteen hundred and forty-one years ago today, or perhaps tomorrow, the good St. Patrick was born and Irishmen throughout the civilized world observed the day in honor of their patron saint. That St. Patrick was a real man and that he did many of the remarkable things attributed to him is clearly established, but little about his real life is known. He was born about midnight, between March 17 and 18, 373 A. D. Whether it was the 17th or the 18th has been a matter of dispute but the Roman Catholic church settled the matter by declaring March 17 to be Saint Patrick's Day. The birthplace of St. Patrick is also a matter of dispute. The majority of students hold that the saint was born in France. The most reliable accounts have it that St. Patrick was sold into slavery in Ireland when a boy. He managed to escape and went to the Continent, where he acquired an education. He then returned to Ireland as a missionary. Whether or not it was St. Patrick who drove all the snakes and frogs and lizards out of Ireland, which is the most popular legend related of the good saint, the fact remains that there is not a reptile or amphibian on the "Old Sod."

Shelby County Men Narrowly Escape Drowning in Swollen Stream.

(Special to the Daily Republican)

Shelbyville, Ind., Mar. 17.—Ivory Stine and Warren Whitehead of this city narrowly escaped death in the Little Blue River yesterday after driving into a ford near the home of Alonzo Leora Rice, the poet, for whom they are planning to do some decorating. They lost their wagon and all their tools and supplies in the stream which was swollen by the melting snow. Stine floated down stream with the wagon and swam to the bank and Whitehead held to the horse's tail as the animal broke loose from the wagon and was carried to safety.

REBEL BASE IN THE NORTH IN DANGER

News Leaks Through Censor Today That Escalon is About to Fall Into Federal Hands.

VILLA LEAVES FOR THE FRONT

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Tex., Mar. 17.—Escalon, the Rebel base north of Torreon, is in grave danger of falling into the hands of Federals, according to a code press telegram that escaped the censorship at Chihuahua and was received here today. So serious is the situation that General Villa and his staff hastened to the front.

General Villa left, escorted by a thousand calvarymen. Villa has concentrated his provisions and ammunition at Escalon. A million rounds and food for a long campaign are there.

News of the attacks on Escalon was a great surprise here as no one knew the Federals were so far north. Before Villa left, he ordered the censor to tighten his lines and forbade newspaper correspondents to file anything today.

When You're Sick
Your Wages Stop

You know what that means—misery—worry—big bills—debt!

You know you can't afford to get sick. Keeping in good health means food and clothing for you and your family. It is up to you, whenever you don't feel right, to take something to make you right, to strengthen you, build you up, ward off worse sickness—protect you and your family. That thing we have in Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. In offering it to you, we protect you against money-risk, by personally promising you that if it does not restore your health, we will give back your money without word or question. We believe it is the best builder of health energy, and strength you can get. It is helping many of your neighbors. If it does not help you, we will give back your money.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is composed principally of pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites. Each has long been endorsed by successful physicians. Here they are for the first time combined. The result is a remarkable nerve, blood and strength-building remedy that is both food and medicine. For all who are nervous, run-down and debilitated—no matter what the cause; for old people; for convalescents; for puny children, and we know of nothing that will give health and strength as quickly as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a real builder of good blood, strong muscles, good digestion. Pleasant to take, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. If you don't feel well, economize both money and strength by beginning today to take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. Sold only at the Rexall stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. Seven Keys
TO

By
EARL DERR BIGGERS

Copyright, 1913, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XXVI.
The Usual Thing.

M R. MAGEE postponed the protest on the tip of his tongue, and, climbing the gloomy stairs that newspapers always affect, they came into the city room of the Star. Though the paper had been long on the street, the excitement of the greatest coup of years still lingered in the place. Magee saw the deferential smiles that greeted the girl and watched her as she made her way to the city editor's desk. In a moment she was back at his side.

"I've got my assignment," she smiled ruefully. They descended to the street. "It's wonderful," she went on, "how curd a city editor can be with any one who pulls off a good story. The job I've got now reminds me of the experience of an old New York reporter who used to work on the Star."

With difficulty they threaded their way through the crowd and moved along beside the green docked windows.

"He was the first man sent out by his paper on Park row on the Spanish war assignment," she went on, "and he behaved rather brilliantly, I believe. Well, he came back after the fight was over, all puffed up and important, and they told him the city editor wanted him. 'They're going to send me to the Philippines,' he told me he thought as he went into the presence. When the city editor ordered him to rush down to a two alarm fire in Houston street he nearly collapsed. I know how he felt. I feel that way now."

"What was it, a one alarm fire?" asked Magee.

"No," she replied, "a sweet little story about the Christmas toys. I've done it to death every Christmas for three years. Oh, well, I can do it again. But I'll have to wait until after Mrs. Norton's lunch."

She led him into a street where every house was like its neighbor, even to the "Rooms" sign in the windows, and up the steps of one she could have recognized only by counting from the corner. They entered the murky and stereotyped atmosphere of a boarding house hallway, with its inevitable hat rack and the uncollected letters of the homeless on a table. Mrs. Norton came breezily forth to meet them.

"Well, Mr. Magee," she said, "I certainly am glad you've come. I'm busy on that lunch now. Dearie, show him into the parlor to wait."

Mr. Magee was shown in. That rooming house parlor seemed to moan dimly as it received him.

On an easel was the sad portrait of a gentleman, undoubtedly the late lamented Norton. His uninteresting nose appeared to be turned up at the constant odor of cookery in which it dwelt.

Mr. Magee stared round the room and smiled. Was the romance of reality never to resemble the romance of his dreams? Where were the dim lights, where the distant waltz, where the magic of moonlight amid which he was some day to have told a beautiful girl of his love? Hardly in Mrs. Norton's parlor.

She came and stood in the doorway. Hatless, careless, smiling, she flooded the place with her beauty. Mr. Magee looked at the dainty angels on the wall, expecting them to hide their faces in shame. But no! They still rode brazenly their unstable clouds.

"Come in!" he cried. "Don't leave me alone here again, please. And, tell me, is this the gentleman who took the contract for making Mrs. Norton happy?"

"Take care of me," she whispered. "I love you so!"
But Mr. Magee had forgot.
"What book?" he asked.
"The novel you went to Baldpate to write. Don't you remember, dearest—no melodrama, no wild chase, no love?"
"Why?" Mr. Magee paused for a moment in the joy of his discovery. Then he came back to the greater joy in his arms.
"Why, darling," he explained gently, "this is it."

THE END.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COSY BUNGALOWS ARRANGED

Plan is to Interest Children—They
Profit from Last Year's Experience in Same Line

(By United Press.)

Huntington, Ind., March 17—With two weeks left of the bird-house contest instituted by Miss Winifred F. Ticer, city librarian, the indications are that when spring opens up and the birds arrive from the south they will find waiting for them many cosy bungalows and a few office buildings. Following the suggestion of Miss Ticer, this city plans to welcome the birds with delegations of bird sharks and to provide them homes, just as the modern city plays host to the skilled labor for a new factory.

The third grade youngster who last year built a substantial structure bearing over its door the words "jenny renu's house" is now at work on a 1914 model. He is profiting from his last year's experience, and this house is broad enough so that when the occupant is at home both his bill and his tail are sheltered from the elements.

Two boys are making a large martin house in partnership. They have kept their plans secret, but the house is known to be two or three stories high and will probably be the business center of the bird community.

This year Miss Ticer has taken particular care to suggest substantial materials and individuality. The rough bark of a tree is good for the roof. "The boys studying manual training appear to be most interested. Miss Ticer believes that as a result of the contest the children will be more interested in birds. She has offered to buy the ten houses that suit her best—unless the owner asks a prohibitive price.

GLENWOOD

James Ochiltree, the oldest resident of our little village, passed his seventy-fifth milestone on the thirtieth inst, which happened to be Friday of this year.

Mrs. Ollie Newman, her three children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy, and daughter Louise and Lon Ochiltree were at Mr. Ochiltree's home on the day he was seventy-five years old and had a sumptuous dinner. Mr. Ochiltree from all appearances has perfect health and is able to do manual labor. He cuts wood in the winter and carpenters in the summer time. Years ago he and his father ran a planing mill and manufactured some household furnishings, such as safes, dining tables, wash stands, and the like, and they were made for wear. Several are still in this vicinity. The old planing mill burned down and another was erected farther down in town and later it was sold and torn down and moved away and a town hall made out of it. We hope Mr. Ochiltree will have many more birthday's.

Rev. Walker preached a temperance sermon on Sunday morning and at the conclusion all present signed a petition to the national congress asking for a constitutional amendment. The women were asked to sign the petition too. He also preached at 7:30 P. M.

The usual services were held at the U. P. church Sabbath afternoon. There will be a St. Patrick's social at Mingles hall Tuesday night.

Mr. Ludlow is getting along very nicely since he remains in bed. His leg was swelling rapidly until he lay in bed. It was also giving him much pain.

Mrs. Coers is improving in health quite slowly.

The measles and chicken pox are still the rage. George Jones, Green Thompson, Clarence Carr and Clarence Simpson are able to be out.

There is talk of a picture show here soon and we will make Connersville and Rushville suburbs of Glenwood.

James Culey of Connersville Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wright. This vicinity is Mr. Culey's old home and he loves to come back and enjoy the friendships made years ago.

Mayor Cured; Skin Cleared

By D. D. D.

Mayor Chapman of Ellis, Kansas, courteously says he will answer any letters written him relative to his truly marvelous cure of skin trouble with the D. D. D. Prescription.

Mayor Chapman writes: "I think how I suffered last winter, how I could do no work. I was covered with terrible blotches, sometimes weeping water, sometimes worse, blotches sometimes 10 inches in diameter. FEARFUL ITCHING. It was only accidentally that I learned of the famous specific D. D. D. I write this in all gratitude for what D. D. D. has done for me." Results from the use of D. D. D. are immediate. The first, soft, cool touch and the itch is gone! Fimples, rashes, dandruff, disappear over night. Hard crusts and scales, raw scorching sores, salt rheum, tetter, no form of skin disease resists. All druggists have this famous specific on hand.

If you will come to us we will sell you the first bottle on the guarantee that it will reach your case or your money refunded. You alone to judge. Ask also about D. D. D. Skin Soap, best for tender skin.

Jack Dillon Finds it Necessary to Fight out of Class if Cashier is to Have Any Work.

RECENTLY BEAT JIM FLYNN

H. A. Ballenger of Detroit Also Takes Occasion to Hand One to Jimmy Clabby

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 17.—Writing for the United Press under a Detroit date line, H. A. Ballenger, a sport writer, has some things to say about the two prizes of Indiana in the pug circle. He comments on the "announcement" that Jack Dillon is no longer a middleweight, and then shifts to Jimmy Clabby, speaking of the Hammond lad slandering sly as "the Milwaukee Phenom." In part, Ballenger writes:

"When he met Freddie Hicks in Windsor a few weeks ago, Dillon weighed exactly 163 pounds, five pounds over the limit. He had not trained for the bout and subsequent events proved that he was correct in believing that formality unnecessary.

"He was, at that time, preparing to meet Jim Flynn, champion "white hope crusher" and he did not desire to take too much weight so short a time before a battle with an acknowledged heavyweight. It is the personal knowledge of the writer that Dillon can make the middleweight limit, weighing in at ringside, within two weeks notice."

"As to Jimmy Clabby. The record of the Milwaukee phenom is liberally sprinkled with K. O.'s but even a casual glance over the list will convince the unprejudiced that the genial Jimmy hasn't much to boast of in these events. Knocking out such persons as Young Poso, Jos. Clement, Charlie King, Bob Salavin, Tim Land, Dick Fitzpatrick and Jack Robinson, is far from performance enough to warrant anyone in claiming a title. Clabby's inability to obtain more than a draw verdict with our own champion in the club class, Freddie Hicks, and his loss to Dave Smith of Australia, who was easy meat for many American middles will about balance his knockout record.

"That Jack Dillon is now meeting heavyweights is acknowledged but 'there's a reason'. And that reason is that middleweights have refused to meet the Indianapolis contender of ten enough to keep the cashier in steady work."

Evidently Ballenger isn't at all sore at the Hoosier Bear Cat.

SCOTT BUELL IS WINNER OF CUP

Receives Highest Grade in Stock Judging Contest at Purdue University.

GETS 1105 POINTS OUT OF 1200

Scott E. Buell, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell, of east of the city, was the winner of a large silver loving cup for the highest grade in a stock judging contest at Purdue University last week. Mr. Buell has been in attendance at the short course and the judging contest was the climax of the winter's work. Mr. Buell was a student in the animal husbandry course. The cup is about twelve inches high and is a trophy that anyone would be glad to own. The winner has his name engraved on the cup and it remains in the office of the department at the university.

The judging of the horses started Tuesday afternoon at the Crouch Stock farm and was not concluded until Thursday when the judging took place at the Purdue farm. The local boy scored 1105 points out of a possible 1200. The scoring this year was exceptionally high and speaks much for the ability of Mr. Buell.

OTHER TEAMS GETTING READY

Connerville Gets Pick of Cincinnati Y. M. I. Team Including Kiefel, the Catcher.

NEWCASTLE LOSES ROMINE

From Present Indications Arcadians Appear to be the Equal of These Two Teams.

Much favorable comment was heard last night on the lineup of the Nashville team for the coming season. The fans would welcome a winning team and it is believed with the material already signed the Arcadians will make all corners step lively. The fans are wondering just how the Arcadians stack up along side the teams from other cities.

Over at Connerville Jack Remington has secured what looks to be the pick of the Y. M. I. team last year from Cincinnati. George Kiefel, the heavy hitting catcher of that club has signed to play there. The pitcher will be Bacon of Cincinnati, who, at one time had a chance for a tryout with the Reds. Scott Cooley will be carried along as utility pitcher. Remington has also signed O'Connell for short stop and Dacy for second base. Remington has secured a good battery and should make other teams play ball to win.

Up at Newcastle, the team is naturally weakened by the loss of Romine, who will play with the Indianapolis Reserves and tend bar for Andy Reinhart. The management has signed Jack Moran to pitch. Moran was with Shelbyville last year and may be a good pitcher with fast company behind him. Eddie Cook, formerly of the local team will play second base for Newcastle, and the rest of the team will line up as last year. There is a rumor however that Brubaker, the clever little short stop of the Hoosiers, will not be back.

On paper the Arcadians appear to be as strong as the other teams and some real baseball is expected. Manager Fisher is endeavoring to book a fast team for the opening Sunday, April 19.

CITY OFFICIALS WAIT ON JUDGE

ing," declared the Governor. The Traction and Terminal Company already has announced that it is willing for the service commission to assume the duties of arbiters. The men have insisted that each side should appoint an arbiter, the two thus chosen to select the third, and it was in the interest of this plan that the union's committee called on Governor Ralston.

J. J. Thorpe asserted last night that the proposition made by the Governor and the Service Commission is very unsatisfactory to the men, but that their future action will depend largely on the conference between the union representatives and the company officials today.

In announcing the new proposition the Governor took occasion to condemn J. J. Thorpe, vice president of the amalgamated association, as a trouble maker and to place at his door responsibility for the present difficulties in which the Indianapolis company and its men are involved.

The governor expressed the opinion that with Thorpe eliminated from the local situation the street car men would experience little difficulty in adjusting all differences and in a manner which would be beneficial to them. Thorpe has remained in the city since he organized the car men last fall and directed the strike.

The average distance covered by a team and wagon is sixteen to twenty miles a day, and that of an automobile is forty to sixty miles.

FIRST THEY COULDN'T FIND PREACHER, THEN THEY LOST MARRIAGE LICENSE

This Couple Sure Had Plenty of Trouble in Breaking Into Matrimonial Game.

SQUIRE COMES TO RESCUE

If all people had as much trouble getting married as Thomas Merritt and Tillie Rolfes had yesterday afternoon the chances are the marriage license clerk would have one long, grand holiday. First they struck a preacher who refused to marry them and then they lost the license after they had the squire all set for the ceremony.

The couple wanted the Rev. Mr. Wainscott of the Heavenly Recruit church to perform the ceremony, but because the bride had been divorced he would not tie the knot. Squire Kratzer was appealed to and consented to officiate. The ceremony was to take place in the clerk's office and when they went to produce the license it could not be found.

Clerk Taylor was in the process of issuing another license when the telephone rang. It was the Knecht clothing store and the party informed the clerk that he had a perfectly good marriage license that he could not use. Clerk Taylor issued the new license and told the clothing store to destroy the first one. The wedding was then performed.

F. S. C. WICKS WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Indianapolis Man Who Missed First Engagement Writes That he Expects to Speak Next Week.

The Rev. Frank S. C. Wicks of Indianapolis, who was prevented from speaking in Rushville by the heavy snow storm two weeks ago, will come here to fill the engagement under the auspices of the public library board Tuesday evening, March 24. The Rev. Mr. Wicks was to have spoken on the subject, "The Religious Teaching of Browning," and he will use the same subject when he speaks here next Tuesday night.

The Rev. Mr. Wicks has written to members of the board that it was the first time in all of his career as a public speaker that he missed an engagement. He said he was very sensitive on this subject and that he was very desirous of coming to Rushville.

WELLESLEY GIRLS' PLUCK SAVE MANY

Fire Brigade Empties College Hall of 410 Young Women in 3 Minutes—Loss is $1,000,000.

(By United Press.)

Wellesley, Mass., March 17.—Through the bravery and quick work of the Wellesley fire brigade, composed of college girls, four hundred and ten girls were saved today when fire destroyed the college hall with a loss of one million dollars.

Mary O'Mahoney, chief of the college fire brigade, directed the rescue work, arousing girls and rushing them, partially clad, on to the campus. Through the quick work of the girls, the big building, five stories high and four hundred feet long, was emptied in three minutes.

At chapel held as usual today, President Helen Pendleton announced that the college will be closed until the end of the regular spring vacation April 7.
